1. 🚀 Technical Excellence, Architecture & Code Quality

"Madalina proved a very good knowledge of Angular and front-end technologies, which she successfully applied to our project. Although the complexity of the project is high, Madalina integrated well into the team and started delivering soon after joining the project. She proved she was a great team player." — Senior Frontend Developer (Feb 2026)

"You are my favorite developer. I don't think you can further improve 😊 I'm not kidding, you are very quick in picking up new stories, you ask good questions so we as application manager can in fill in the blanks we haven't thought about. The work is excellent as well. It's a very difficult topic to work on; we have created a whole new application. You have taken a lot of initiative. There aren't many bugs and the ones we have are quickly resolved. You are always thinking about finding good customer solutions, so I'm very happy with you. I can't see any improvements that you can make. We are so happy with the way things are handled." — Iris Vanstraelen, Application Manager | Cognizant (Nov 14, 2024)

"She tackled new features with ease, always on time and with the highest possible quality. She's a vocal team member and she's always deeply involved in discovering all the requirements of what she needs to implement. Madalina's strong commitment to having all the details in has helped the team get a better understanding of the tasks. I'm confident that she can provide people with the support needed to get the job done." — Andrei-Ioan Popescu, Team Lead | Deloitte Digital (Oct 19, 2022)

"Feedback from both team and local technical lead is positive as Madalina started working on the project near stabilization phase but managed to get familiar in a short timeframe with the complexity of the project." — Silvana-Roberta Helal, Senior Manager | Deloitte Digital (May 2, 2022)

"She gave a huge boost to our Web app development; she came up with a very long list of improvements to our existing app and managed to implement a lot of those items in just a couple of weeks. The quality of the code she has been writing, and the overall work quality has been impressive. I would always want her in my team, given the opportunity." — Dragos-Vasile Lungu, Technical Lead | Deloitte Digital (Ian 28, 2022)

"For the past years I had the opportunity to work alongside Madalina on multiple personal and commercial projects. She was able to develop features in an extremely elegant and creative way all the time. Her ability to develop high quality products while under extreme pressure is something that I look up to, not only that she's able to stay calm and professional in difficult situations. She's also able to make everyone in the team feel that they are also capable of doing more than they expect from themselves." — Emanuel Cepoi, Full-Stack Developer | Wooter Apparel (Sep 24, 2021)

2. 🧠 Ownership & Strategic Problem Solving

"Madalina proved to be a highly reliable and skilled front-end developer. She can independently take over and deliver complex features; she constantly pays attention to details and is always making sure all the acceptance criteria are met. Her positive attitude and excellent communication skills made her a great addition to the team." — Tech Lead (Feb 2026)

"I promised to send you some feedback about the work we did together. I can only sum up positive things about how I experienced you in your job as frontend developer and unofficial screen designer:

- Eager to learn, you pick up new aspects of your job and gather the necessary information. It can be an international standard or a specific functionality of a tool, information you gathered so we could opt for different solutions to solve a problem in the front-end design or development.
- Focused: Your focus is always 100% on the job.
- Looking for smart solutions: Not only you help us with designing and developing screens for our end user, you also think with us to find the best suitable solution which is smart and user friendly and even you propose solutions we did not think of ourselves that meet the business requirements. This is more than we would expect from a front-end developer.
- Drive: you have a big drive to do your job as a professional with high quality standards and finding solutions for the end users.
- Hard worker: you do not do a 9 to 5 job; you just keep on picking up tasks and help us to realize a large set of requirements release after release. Your focus is always to deliver as much as possible, even if we come up with extra requirements just before releasing.
- Strong communication skills: you communicate very transparently, directly and to the point. This makes it easy to work together and not waste a lot of time discussing as we said before.

It was a pleasure working with you. I wish you all the best." — Kathleen Renard, Process Manager | Cognizant (Nov 2024)

"Here is some feedback about your involvement in our team. Overall, we are very happy with your contribution to our project and your role in the team. No real learning points could be found, which is very good 😊. We appreciate: your ownership, your involvement, your E2E view, testing of your changes, the extra tasks you picked up outside of your role: UX design, use of new Kendo table component, you being open for feedback and improvements, how you take initiative, your efficient & fast way of working, you to be a fast learner, how you take up a key position after replacing the old Tech Lead, you to think along with business about problems and solutions, you being a team player" — Etienne De Paepe, Manager | Cognizant (Nov 15, 2024)

"She proves her great technical expertise and collaboration skills with every task that is assigned to her and is supporting the project teams with business and technical information for successful integrations." — Cristina-Mihaela Antohe, Senior Consultant | Deloitte Digital (Nov 7, 2022)

"From early on, she was fully independent from a tech perspective, requiring assistance only to understand the features she needed to implement. Even though she is a less experienced front-end developer than the former one, seeing her work, I can confirm that she managed to surpass everyone's expectations. She communicates the blockers & issues clearly; she developed complex features faster and with increased quality than before. She handled cloud configuration and installed the applications that she developed with ease, even though this is out of her area of expertise. She is asking everyone for information when she needs it, she is efficiently communicating her concerns and thus, every story that she implemented was easily integrated with the backend components and the platform. Moreover, I appreciate the fact that during refinements and clarifications, she challenges the approach and the input data, and thus we managed to increase the quality of the features' description resulting in better structured stories and acceptance criteria. I'm happy that I got the chance to work with her and I would definitely like to continue doing this in the future." — Andrei-Ioan Popescu, Team Lead | Deloitte Digital (Apr 20, 2022)

"Madalina could quickly take over the tasks assigned to her and she could deliver them with a very good quality on the agreed time. Madalina is also a team player, and she knows when she needs to raise the hand when an issue appears. I suggest Madalina continue working on this way and not stop learning not only frontend technical things but also Cloud and DevOps tools to increase the value of her profile." — Diego Frison Aladren, Solution Lead | Deloitte Digital (Apr 20, 2022)

"Overnight she became an expert and point of contact for front-end applications. She has delivered all her tasks at great speed and took on several topics instantly. The entire project is happy to have her onboard." — Kavitha Padmanabham, Business Analyst | Deloitte Digital (Apr 20, 2022)

"Madalina is a very practical person. Working on various projects with her, I was able to see how flexible she can be, especially with the help of her vast knowledge in the IT field. In addition to intelligence, I noticed that she also has leadership qualities that have been very helpful in any project. Attention to detail characterizes her, so it's hard not to get things going almost perfectly with her. She is a charismatic, dynamic person with very precise decision-making power. Nothing remains unresolved with Madalina!" — Mihaela Gales, System Support Engineer | Vodafone (Nov 25, 2021)

"Madalina is always reliable and helps her team members, able to understand the requirements and come up with a solution. It was a joy and I always had confidence while working with her. I strongly recommend her to any new opportunity and challenge." — Raluca Rusu, Project Manager | IBM (Sep 13, 2021)

3. 🤝 Mentorship, Leadership & Team Empowerment

"Madalina instantly collaborated with the team and importantly understood our objectives quickly. The repeated feedback from the development lead was how quickly our production increased – thanks to Madalina. Madalina clearly has a strong skillset which benefited our FE team significantly. Madalina worked hard to develop her colleagues and ensured they were implementing best practice techniques." — Jack Taylor, Manager | Deloitte Digital (Apr 6, 2022)

"During her time spent on Alpha space, Madalina has shown a lot of flexibility and maturity. Even though she had to change teams and industries, from banking to insurance, her experience has been extremely appreciating by our main stakeholders and there have been multiple requests to keep her on Alpha. From a technical perspective, she delivers extremely fast and at a high quality. For example, she managed to bring visible improvements to the web app in just a couple of weeks, as well as mentioning more junior team members. If given the opportunity to match her expertise and role desired, she has the ability to make a huge difference; she has the skills and determination needed. — Isabela Pecete, Project Manager | Deloitte Digital (Feb 7, 2022)

"Madalina was my mentor during my internship period at IBM iX. She was friendly and open from the start and rapidly developed a learning plan for me. We had a great mentor-mentee relationship during that time, and she was always eager to show me new front-end tricks and quirks. The proactivity which she possesses inspired me a lot through my internship period." — Madalin Tuca, Frontend Developer | IBM (Sep 2, 2021)

"Madalina had a very good start and path in the project, having in charge a very hard project and client on a team, being in front of the client for direct communication and problem solving. I am very satisfied with her abilities to create and maintain a good working relationship both with the client and her team members, to adapt quickly to change and to help any time need it." — Raluca Rusu, Project Manager | IBM (15 Feb, 2019)
